THE [Numb. 862.]

MARYLAND GAZETTE,

Containing the lateſt Advices foreign and domeſtic.

THURSDAY, November 12, 1761.

The following Account of the Marriage of his late Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales with the Princeſs of Saxe Gotha, the Royal Parents of our preſent moſt Gracious Sovereign, may perhaps be agreeable to our Readers.

HER Highneſs arrived in the William and Mary yacht at Greenwich, on Sunday April 25, 1736, and landing at the Hoſpital was conducted in one of his Majeſty's coaches by Lord Delawar, to the Queen's houſe in the Park, amidſt the acclamations of thouſands of ſpectators. Her Highneſs ſeemed highly delighted with the joy the people expreſſed at her arrival, and had the goodneſs to ſhew herſelf for above half an hour from the gallery towards the Park. The Princeſs of Wales came to pay her a viſit, and their Majeſties, the Duke, and Princeſſes, ſent their compliments.

Monday 26. The Prince of Wales dined with her Highneſs at Greenwich in one of the rooms towards the Park, the windows being thrown open to oblige the curioſity of the people: His Royal Highneſs afterwads gave her the diverſion of paſſing on the water, as far as the Tower and back again, in his barge finely adorned, and preceeded by a concert of muſic. The ſhips ſaluted their Highneſſes all the way they paſſed and hung out their ſtreamers and colours, and the river was covered with boats. Their Highneſſes afterwards ſupped in public.

Tueſday 27. Her Highneſs came in his Majeſty's coach from Greenwich to Lambeth, croſſed the water at Lambeth and was brought from Whitehall to St. James's in the Queen's chair; where was a numerous and ſplendid court, beyond expreſſion. The Prince of Wales received her at the Garden door; and, upon her ſinking on her knee to kiſs his hand he affectionately raiſed her up, and twice ſaluted her. His Royal Highneſs led her up ſtairs to their Majeſties apartments, where preſenting her to the King, her Highneſs fell on her knee to kiſs his hand but was gently taken up and ſaluted by him. Her Highneſs was then preſented to the Queen in like manner, and afterwards to the Duke and Princeſſes, who congratulated her arrival. Her Highneſs dined with the Prince of Wales, and the Princeſſes. At eight the proceſſion began to the Chappel, and the joining of hands was proclaimed to the people by firing guns. Her Highneſs was in her hair, wearing a crown with one bar, as Princeſs of Wales, ſet all over with diamonds; her robe likewiſe, as Princeſs of Wales, being of crimſon velvet turned back with ſeveral rows of ermine, and having her train ſupported by Lady Caroline Lenox, daughter to his Grace the Duke of Richmond; Lady Caroline Fitzroy, daughter to his Grace the Duke of Grafton; Lady Caroline Cavendiſh, daughter to his Grace the Duke of Devonſhire; and Lady Sophia Fermor, daughter to the Earl of Pomfret; all of whom were in virgin habits of ſilver like the Princeſs, and adorned with diamonds, not leſs in value than from 20 to 30,000 l. each. Her Highneſs was led by his Royal Highneſs the Duke, and conducted by his Grace the Duke of Grafton, Lord Chamberlain of the Houſhold, and the Lord Hervey, Vice-Chamberlain; and attended by the Counteſs of Effingham, and the other Ladies of her houſhold. The marriage ſervice was read by the Lord Biſhop of London, Dean of the Chappel; and after the ſame was over, a fine anthem was performed by a great number of voices and inſtruments. When the proceſſion return'd, His Royal Highneſs led his bride; and coming into the Drawing-room, their Royal Highneſſes kneeled down, and received their Majeſties bleſſing: At half an hour after ten, their Majeſties ſat down to ſupper, the Prince and Duke being on the King's right hand, and the Princeſs of Wales, and the four Princeſſes on the Queen's left. Their Majeſties retiring to the apartments of the Prince of Wales, the Bride was conducted to her bed-chamber, and the Bridegroom to his dreſſing-room, where the Duke undreſſed him, and his Majeſty did his Royal Highneſs the honour to put on his ſhirt. The Bride was undreſſed by the Princeſſes; and, being in bed in a rich undreſs, his Majeſty came into the room, and the Prince followed ſoon after in a night gown of ſilver ſtuff, and a cap of the fineſt lace; the Quality were admitted to ſee the Bride and Bridegroom ſitting up in the Bed, ſurrounded by all the Royal Family. His Majeſty was dreſſed in a gold brocade, turned up with ſilk, embroidered with large flowers in ſilver and colours, as was the waiſtcoat; the buttons and ſtar were diamonds. Her Majeſty was in a plain yellow ſilk, tobed and faced with pearl, diamonds, and other jewels of immenſe value. The Dukes of Grafton, Newcaſtle, and St. Alban's, the Earl of Albemarle, Lord Hervey, Col. Pelham, and many other Noblemen, were in gold brocades of 3 to 500 l. a ſuit. The Duke of Marlborough was in a white velvet and gold brocade, upon which was an exceeding rich point d'Eſpagne: the Earl of Euſton, and many others, were in clothes flowered or ſprigged with gold; the Duke of Montagu in a gold brocaded tiſſue. The waiſtcoats were univerſally brocades, with large flowers. 'Twas obſerved, moſt of the rich clothes were the manufacture of England; and in honour of our own artiſts, the few which were French did not come up to theſe in richneſs, goodneſs, or fancy: as was ſeen by the cloathes worn by the Royal Family, which were all of the Britiſh manufacture. The cuffs of the ſleeves were univerſally deep and open, the waiſt long, and the plaits more ſtriking out than ever. The ladies were principally in brocades of gold and ſilver, and wore their ſleeves much lower than had been done for ſome time.

LONDON, July 18.

THE Charlotte yacht is the moſt ſuperbly and elegantly decorated as can be conceived, the pillars, and every other ornament on board, being finely gilt with gold, even the blocks and carriages for the Guns are not excepted: and there is the fineſt bed on board that ever was ſeen. All the attendants on board the yacht, and the barge which is to convey her Highneſs the Princeſs Charlotte down the river Elbe, are to be new cloathed on this occaſion.

We hear, that in order to bring the Maſters of Merchant Ships to be more mindful of keeping company with the men of War who are their convoy, the old law will be put in force, which is, that for every gun the man of War ſhall fire to bring them to, it ſhall be 5 l. penalty to every ſhip that parts with her convoy.

July 29. The laſt Letters from Hamburgh ſay, that there is much talk there of the reigning Duke of Mecklenburgh-Strelitz's marrying one of the Princeſſes of England.

The Windſor Man of War, of ſixty Guns, is ordered to ſail to Tangier with rich preſents of clothes, jewels, watches, fire-arms, &c. from the King to the Emperor and Empreſs of Morocco.

Sir Francis Drake, Bart. ſet out at four o'Clock yeſterday Morning for Harwich, to embark on board the Fubbs yacht for Stade; and is to return in the Charlotte with the Princeſs, Lord Harcourt, and Lord Anſon. Sir Francis goes from the Board of Green-Cloth, to provide Proviſions, &c. for her Highneſs.

It is ſaid there will ſoon be a promotion of Generals and Admirals, and a new order erected.

We hear that his Royal Highneſs the Duke of of York, and Earl of Holderneſſe, are to receive the Princeſs of Mecklenburgh at her landing in England, and to conduct her to his Majeſty. Soon after her arrival, the day of celebrating the nuptials with his Majeſty is to be fixed, which, we hear, will be before the end of next Month.

The magiſtrates of Augſburg have publiſhed an ordonance, by which they forbid the inhabitants to ſpeak of ſtate-affairs, or matters of religion; they exhort them to pay a proper reſpect to all the ambaſſadors, and thoſe belonging to them: they likewiſe regulate the price of lodgings, and ſtrongly recommend the obſervance of order and decency.

Auguſt 1. As an inſtance of the great eagerneſs to view the grand Shew of the Coronation, we are informed, that a gentleman has been prevailed upon to take a room for his lady at the rate of 140 guineas; but the appointment of the ſolemnity of the Coronation falling unhappily exactly at the time when the lady expects to be delivered, ſhe has farther prevailed on her huſband, to let a ſkilful man midwife, nurſe, &c. attend her, and to hire an additional with-drawing room, leſt the great hurry of the day ſhould bring on her labour, when it will be impoſſible to carry her away without endangering her life.

The ground rent to build the ſcaffolding on in the Broad Sanctuary to ſee the coronation, lets at 3l. 13s. and 6d. per foot. And the ground within the rails, incloſing the Abby, we hear lets at 5l. 5s. per foot.

It is ſaid one of the Coffee-houſes at Weſtminſter-hall gate is let for the coronation-day for above 500 l.

Auguſt 7. Letters from Holland tell us, that Sir Joſeph Yorke is at great pains to contradict the Reports of an approaching Rupture between Great-Britain and Spain, which he repreſents as mere ſtock-jobbing news; but theſe Letters ſay, the Reports meet, nevertheleſs, with much credit, being mentioned in poſitive terms in many letters from perſons of character.

The ſeveral Quantities of Plate delivered at the Coronation, according to the Claims.

1. To the Lord Almoner, for the day, 305 oz. of gilt plate, in two large chaſed baſons.

2. A gold cup and cover to the Lord Mayor of London, containing twenty ounces of pure gold.

3. To the chief Cup bearer, a cup and cover, curiouſly chaſed and gilt, of thirty-two ounces.

4. To the Mayor of Oxford a high gilt bowl and richly chaſed, of 110 oz. as a gift from the King to that City, with his Majeſty's arms engraved on it.

5. To the Champion, a high bowl and cover finely chaſed and gilt, of 36 oz.

6. To the Duke of Norfolk, as Chief Butler of England for the Day, a cup of pure gold of 32 oz.

7. To the Lord Great Chamberlain, as Chief Officer of the Ewry, two large gilt baſons, and one large gilt ewer.

The Archbiſhop claims, as his fee, the purple velvet chair, cuſhing, and foot-ſtool, whereon the King ſits at the Coronation.

The Officers of the removing wardrobe alſo claim, as their fee, the pall of cloth of gold over the King at the coronation.

Auguſt 14. The length of time appointed for the Right Hon. the Earl of Harcourt's continuance at the Court of Mecklenburgh, as we are informed, is ſix days. His Lordſhip's Viſits to her Highneſs are to be made in form twice each day, viz. morning and afternoon: for this purpoſe his Lordſhip made up twelve ſuits of cloaths, all of them remarkably rich and elegant, in order to appear in a new dreſs upon every interview with the Princeſs.

The ſcaffold in St. Margaret's church-yard, to ſee the coronation, is raiſed ſixteen ſeats one above another, and ſome of the old houſes have above two or three additional ſtories clapt on the tops of them. Why ſhould they ſtop here, when there is ſo much room between that and the ſky to build higher; and the higher they go, the purer the air; and, with the help of good teleſcopes, they might be able to ſee the proceſſion in a fair day, as plain as they did the Tranſit of Venus over the Sun.

All Trades but the Carpenters are at a ſtop; nothing is ſold in Weſtminſter but places to ſee the ſhew; every houſe, Gentlemen's as well as Tradeſmen's, from Weſtminſter-hall to the weſt door of the Abbey; and even the Abbey itſelf is converted to the ſame uſe.

Deal boards, timber, and ſpunge, is riſen 30 per cent.

They write from Hanover of the 7th, that the Princeſs of Mecklenburgh's firſt ſtay was to be at Gohrde, whither they ſent away that day ſome covered waggons with refreſhments, and ſeveral domeſtics, but that the Engliſh were to do the honours to her thro' the whole journey. Her Serene Highneſs to be one night at Harbourg. She is expected at Stade by the 20th.

Three Pruſſian recruiting officers and ſome other emiſſaries, having inveigled above 50 young fellows in the Dutchy of Holſtein, to enliſt in the Pruſſian troops, the Preſident of Altena was informed of it, and he gave notice of it to the Court of Copenhagen, who immediately ſent for the Pruſſian Miniſter, and bade him inform his Court, that they were extremely ſurprized at the preſumption of thoſe officers in openly violating the treaties ſubſiſting between the two Crowns; that they deſired that thoſe 50 young men might be ſent home, and the officers enjoined never to dare to enliſt men in any part of the King's dominions, otherwiſe his Majeſty would take full ſatisfaction at a proper opportunity.

When we reflect on the Stand the Turkiſh Empire made about 22 Years ago, againſt the combined Power of Auſtria and Ruſſia, and that the War terminated to the Diſadvantage of the Court of Vienna, though its Ally was conſtantly victorious; we cannot but acknowledge, that as Europe is now circumſtanced, the Grand Signior holds the Ballance of Power, and may as ſoon as he pleaſes, defeat all the Projects of the two Empreſſes and France: For if the Turks proved a Match for the Auſtrians and Ruſſians, when all three ſtarted freſh, how much ſuperior muſt they be when the latter are nearly exhauſted! The two Imperial Armies, we muſt confeſs, are ſuperior in Experience and Diſcipline to any Forces the Sultan can preſently bring againſt them; but the main Queſtion is, how long can thoſe Armies be maintained; or how will they be able to reſiſt the united Efforts of Pruſſia and his Ally?

Monſ. de Voltaire in his Hiſtorical Tracts, obſerves, that the Turks have found the Way to Vienna twice, but the Germans have not yet been able to make their Way to Conſtantinople: To which we may now ſubjoin, that it is not improbable the Turks may pay Vienna a third Viſit, if that ungrateful and turbulent Court does not ſpeedily make Peace, and dream no more of Sileſia, nor of putting the Electorate of Hanover under the Ban of the Empire, for daring to make Reſiſtance againſt her worthy Confederate, France.

CHARLES-TOWN, in South-Carolina, Sept. 22.

On Thurſday laſt arrived Captain Taylor and Capt. Duncan from the coaſt of Africa, by whom we have the following information, viz. That the Amethiſte French frigate, ſome time ſince mentioned to have arrived on that coaſt, came on the 15th of June to the Banana iſlands, within which is a very good road, where then lay the Flora of London, James Taylor maſter, with 200 ſlaves on board, and the Hare, of Liverpool, Captain Colley, with 500 more; but ſhe arrived too late to come within gun-ſhot of the Engliſh veſſels: Capt. Taylor ſent his boat to enquire who ſhe was, when the commander of the frigate took two negroes out of her, and making ſure of the ſhips, ſent her back for the maſters and their papers: Capt. Colley being on board the Flora when the boat returned, immediately went on board his own veſſel, cut his cables in the night, put to ſea, and got ſafe off the coaſt; but Capt. Taylor finding it impoſſible to get away, put his ſlaves on ſhore, and ſet fire to his ſhip, ſo that Monſieur was ſadly diſappointed in the morning of his booty: That about 40 leagues ſouthward of Sierra Leon, the ſaid frigate took a brig belonging to Liverpool, Capt. Ray, with 100 ſlaves on board, bound to Virginia: She alſo took a ſloop belonging to Rhode-Iſland, one Alleck maſter, with 50 ſlaves, which ſhe took out, and burnt the veſſel. And that ſhe left the Banana's the 1ſt of July, proceeding further down the coaſt, where it is probable ſhe has made many other captures.

Advices from Auguſtine ſay, that five Spaniſh men of war, with about 3000 land forces, arrived at the Havannah from Old Spain ſometime laſt month; and that the flota was ſailed for Europe.

Laſt Week the Tranſport Ship Charming Becky, Capt. Scott, from Guadaloupe, with Invalids for New-York, put in here, having loſt all her Maſts, Sails and Rigging, on the 4th Inſtant, in a Storm. The Men are landed, and lodged in the Barracks.

BOSTON, October 26.

Friday evening laſt, between 8 and 9 o'clock, came on the ſevereſt N. E. ſtorm of wind and rain that had been known here for 30 Years paſt, and continued till between 2 and 3 o'clock the next morning; in which time a hemp-houſe, at the weſt part of the town, the old wind-mill on the neck; and ſeveral chimnies in town, were blown down, beſides the tops of chimnies, turrets of houſes, fences, trees, &c.—The ſhipping in the harbour alſo received conſiderable damage, particularly Capt. Phips's ſchooner, which arrived the day before in 3 days from Halifax, and another ſchooner belonging to Scituate, which had their ſterns beat in, and almoſt filled with water; many other veſſels were damaged, and it is thought the miſchief would have been much greater to the veſſels at the Wharffs, had it not been near low water at the height of the gale: The province ſhip King George, Capt. Hallowell, we hear, parted a 15 inch cable: His Excellency our Governor having dined on board the ſhip that day, very providentially tarried there the night, as a chimney at the caſtle fell in by the violence of the gale, and carried the bed to the ground in which his Excellency intended to have lodged:—Two barns were blown down at Lynn, and a cow killed; and a barn at Chelſea, and two horſes killed:—Five or ſix veſſels were drove aſhore at Providence, in Rhode-Iſland government, and greatly damaged; and it being high water there, it got into the ſtores and cellars, and deſtroyed ſugars, and other merchandize, to the amount of 12 or 15,000l. their currency; it has alſo entirely carried away the great bridge at that place: On both roads, Eaſt and Weſt, as far as we have heard, the roofs of houſes, tops of barns, and fences were blown down; and 'tis ſaid ſome thouſands of trees have have been torn up by the violence of the above ſtorm, and we fear we ſhall ſoon hear melancholy accounts of damage done by it at ſea.

RAN away from the Subſcriber on the 4th Inſtant, a very likely Negro Fellow named Tom, about 22 Years of Age, 5 Feet 8 Inches high, was imported from Africa about 2½ Years ago, but ſpeaks tolerable good Engliſh, tho' ſlow, and appears baſhful. He had on when he went away, an over Jacket of dyed Cotton, an under Jacket of Plading, and an Oſnabrigs Shirt and Trowſers; it is imagined that he carried with him ſome ſpare Shirts and Trowſers, as alſo ſome Bed-Cloaths, and as we miſs a Canoe from this Shore, it is ſuſpected that he is gone by Water, eſpecially as he had been uſed to the Water for at leaſt a Year before I purchaſed him, and had in that Time made an Attempt to get to Sea in an open Boat.

Whoever apprehends the ſaid Negro, and ſecures him ſo that I can have him again, ſhall be paid the Sum of Twenty Shillings if taken within Ten Miles of this Place, Thirty Shillings if Twenty Miles, Forty Shillings if Thirty Miles, Fifty Shillings if Forty Miles, and Three Pounds if at a greater Diſtance, by ROBERT PETER.

RELIGION, the crowning Excellence of intelligent Nature, claims the Approbation and close Attention of every reasonable Being, who expects future Bliss. We are bound from Principles of Gratitude and Interest to promote the Honour and Worship of the supreme Mind, as necessary to our own Prosperity, the Good of Society, and future Happiness of Man. Animated by these interesting Motives, we, of the Presbyterian Persuasion in this Town, desire, not from Party Views, but from real Principle, to purchase a Lot of Ground to erect a decent Church for Divine Service, in which we may worship GOD according to our Consciences. Upon Enquiry we find ourselves as yet insufficient to raise such a Sum as is necessary to accomplish such an important Design, beg Leave therefore to sollicit the Generosity of our Fellow-Christians to assist and encourage us in compleating a small Lottery, at a Time when the Benevolence of our Countrymen is so well tried in this Way. We hope our Claim to the public Attention is equal to any that has sollicited their Notice, and humbly expect that we shall meet with general Encouragement.
